

More Examples

- People in the arts such as authors, musicians, artists, or owners of environmental websites who have inspired you to care for creation in any way (Author notes can be sent to their publishers.)
- Stores that do not use plastic bags
- Automobile manufacturer or dealers that manufacture or sell electric vehicles
- Companies that offer socially-responsible investments
- Companies providing solar energy products or grants to fund solar projects
- Individuals who have led or worked in local efforts of national organizations
- Individuals you know who take steps to reduce the carbon they contribute to the environment
- Spiritual leaders who inspire you to care for all of creation
- Scientists who have explained environmental needs to you
- Someone working in environmental restoration
- A friend or acquaintance who respects all of life as sacred
- Anyone you know who has passion for the care of the Earth and all its inhabitants
- Someone whose commitment is inspirational to you, who models hope and joy in their persistence and their sacrifice for our Earth